
Rino Pivirotto

Executive Director Navy International Programs Office Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Research, Development & Acquisition)

Mr. Pivirotto is the Executive Director for the Navy International Programs Office (IPO) since May 2004. He is responsible for the Department of the Navy's International Programs – Security Assistance, Cooperative Development/Production/Testing, Technology Security, and Strategic Planning.

Mr. Pivirotto entered the Senior Executive Service in December 2002. He has a total of 32 years of civilian service.

From December 2002 to May 2004 Mr. Pivirotto was the Director, Navy IPO Technology Security and Cooperative Programs Directorate. He was responsible for developing/coordinating DON foreign disclosure policy (including technology, data and hardware transfers) and DON cooperative acquisition programs including joint development and production and data/personnel exchanges.

From December 1999 to December 2002, Mr. Pivirotto was the Deputy Director, Navy IPO Technology Security and Cooperative Programs Directorate. He had the same duties as above but in the capacity of deputy.

From April 1991 to December 1999, Mr. Pivirotto was the Director, Navy IPO Technology Transfer and Security Assistance Review Board (TTSARB) and Foreign Comparative Testing (FCT) Division. He was responsible for developing/coordinating DoN foreign disclosure policy including coordination via the flag level Technology Transfer and Security Assistance Review Board (TTSARB).

Mr. Pivirotto has a bachelor's degree in business management from Farleigh Dickinson University.

Mr. Pivirotto received the DON's Civilian Meritorious Service Award in 1998.